Philosophy

We believe that all students have a natural desire to learn. With this in mind we provide our students with the academic, spiritual, and emotional tools needed to motivate learning and personal growth in a caring environment where all children are valued, respected, and encouraged to be good "Armenian Christians" which includes the responsibility of being an active, caring, and contributing member of the community.

Objectives

In accordance with our school's philosophy, we strive to move beyond the requirements of the California State framework; develop critical thinking and problem-solving skills; develop a cooperative relationship within the school, church and community; foster a sense of respect for one's own culture and heritage as well as those of others, and to teach tolerance and respect toward the opinions and views of others.

I. INTRODUCTION

Overview

This handbook has been prepared to acquaint students and their parents with school policies and procedures. These are presented in handbook form for ready reference and to enhance communication between the students, parents, and the school.

The regulations described in these pages have been established as means for assuring an efficient yet nurturing atmosphere in which children can be motivated to learn effectively and happily, and to grow physically, mentally, socially, and spiritually toward achieving fulfilling, productive roles as adults. The school seeks cooperative measures to develop consistent standards and goals by which home and school will reinforce each other in giving each child firm support and encouragement toward attaining the maximum individual potential.

School's History and Philosophy

Founded in 1984, St. Gregory's Alfred and Marguerite Hovsepian School operates under the auspices of St. Gregory Armenian Apostolic Church, a parish of the Western Diocese. The school is dedicated to serving the Armenian community; its goal is to provide quality education by facilitating educational access and academic excellence through updated systems and modern facilities.

The school encourages the Armenian families, especially those residing in the vicinity of the City of Pasadena, to be active in collaborative community service, and it empowers its constituents to become good Christians, responsible citizens, and conscientious Americans while preserving their Armenian heritage.

St. Gregory's Alfred and Marguerite Hovsepian School, under the direction of its Board of Directors, strives to maintain the rising academic standard it has achieved thus far, and to be more competitive with the existing educational institutions in the years to come.

Accreditation

St. Gregory's A. & M. Hovsepian School is fully accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC) until 2020.

When students need medication during school hours, parents are asked to sign a medical release form for this purpose. All medications will be kept and administered in the office. The medicine must be in its original container and labeled with the student's name, dosage, and schedule of intake.

Students who become ill at school will report to the office until parents can be reached to take them home. School office will not provide over-the-counter medications. However, emergency care will be given as authorized on the medical forms signed by parents at registration.

XI. EXTRA CURRICULAR ACTIVITIES

1. Back-to-School Night

In late August, parents of children enrolled in the school are invited to attend the "Back-to-School Night." At least one parent must attend in order to know grade and class expectations. This type of communication is essential for the growth of the educational community. The evening will begin with an introduction in Geragos Hall. Classrooms will be open to parents. Teachers will discuss curriculum, textbooks, teaching techniques and special requirements. Attendance of all parents is mandatory.

2. Conferences

At the end of the first and third quarters parents are invited to receive their children's report card, view their work, and meet with their teachers. All parents are obligated to attend. Each teacher designates a weekly conference time for parent consultations. These may be initiated by the parent or the teacher to discuss the student's progress. Requests should be channeled through the school office. If the need arises, conferences may be scheduled for any day. Conferences with the principal may also be scheduled through the office.

3. Parent Observation

The administration office gives the parents the opportunity to observe their children in a classroom setting during school hours. Arrangements for these observations should be made through the principal.

4. Parent-Teacher Organization (P.T.O.) & Fathers' Club

Both the P.T.O. and the Fathers' Club are supporting organs of the St. Gregory Hovepian School, and as such, are subject to the authority of the school board. Membership is open to all parents and staff members. The main objective of these organizations is to support the many phases of school life, such as to promote the welfare of the students in the home and school, to assist the school administration and the school board in the fund raising activities to meet the budget, and volunteer support whenever needed. Parents are strongly encouraged to participate in these organizations.

5. Field Trips

Four or more times a year, educational field trips will be arranged for students. These trips are part of the curriculum; thus, it is mandatory for students to participate. Transportation may be arranged through chartered buses or by volunteer parents. If buses are used, a charge may be made. Parents who drive must be licensed and adequately insured. A copy of the driver's license and insurance policy must be given to the office. Parents are asked to share supervision duties; therefore, they may not bring younger children along. Permission slips signed by parents are required for all children participating in field trips.

7. Birthday Parties

The safety of our children is of utmost importance and unfortunately food treats are not an option for birthdays including teacher birthdays.

We have many students with a wide range of severe, life threatening allergies to various nuts, milk products, wheat, soy, strawberries, kiwi, and much more. Although we are very diligent about monitoring the treats that come into the office, it is exceedingly difficult to verify the ingredients in every food product that is brought to school. Children have had life threatening allergic reactions at school to food products that have been brought to school to share on special occasions.

One of the milestones each year for your child is celebrating their birthday. Teachers honor children in the classroom on their special day in a variety of ways. The entire staff, attired in birthday hats, takes an annual photo, which is displayed above the published list of monthly birthdays in the lobby. As a school community, we would like to restructure the celebration of birthdays and honor your child's special day in a different way.

We have provided the list below as other choices for honoring your children on their special day:

- Donate a book to the school library or classroom in honor of your child's birthday with his/her name inside.
- Have your child bring their favorite book to share and the teacher or child will read it to the class.
- Donate a ball, hula-hoop, or a jump rope (new or used) to the classroom for recess.
- Provide each student in class with a colorful pencil, stickers or eraser.
- Choose favorite song or musical piece to sing or play for the class.

We appreciate your support and understanding as we continue to reflect on how to provide all students with a safe and healthy environment. A simple change in policy, which will continue to allow children to be honored on their birthday, is the prudent action to take. We welcome any suggestions for simple, yet meaningful ways to recognize your child's birthday.

7. Solicitations

Prior clearance is needed from the administration office for any kind of solicitation.

8. Memos and E-mails

Monthly invoices and E-mails containing information regarding your account and various activities will be sent home regularly.

9. Monthly Calendar

In the beginning of each month, parents can check the monthly calendar on the school's website. Additional information might be emailed to parents via Constant Contact to follow all the activities taking place in that particular month, such as lunch schedules, holidays, etc.

10. Publications

Illumination is the official school journal written and published both in English and Armenian by our students. Students are encouraged to contribute articles for publication.
